

Looking for some Extra ColdFusion Work?

Posted At : August 9, 2006 6:00 AM | Posted By : Steve

Related Categories:

I need a few extra ColdFusion developers to help out with some deadlines this month (and some of the next and maybe some ongoing).

I need people with good ColdFusion experience using CFCs and custom tags. I would also like people with experience with CSS and accessibility (these need not be the same people with CFC experience). I consider experience with one or more frameworks to be a plus, but not required as no published framework is in use in any of my projects.

Candidates of the CF/HTML/CSS persuasion (as opposed to the CF/CFC persuasion) should consider themselves to have at least HTML Level 4 knowledge and be familiar with accessibility and Section 508 (though not as good a measure, I guess Accessibility Level 3 knowledge is about what I am hoping for). Candidates of the CF/CFC persuasion need not be OO experts, but should have experience with CFCs and understand encapsulation and composition.

Work is subcontracting, 1099 strongly preferred over W2. Work at home from anywhere in the U.S..

Rates to be negotiated.

Expect this to be relatively short-term work. As I have had more work than I can comfortably handle for about the past two years, however, the possibility exists for more work ongoing.

If you are interested, let me know. My domain name is bryantwebconsulting.com. Just send an email to me (my first name at my domain name).