It has been more than a year since I released Mailer 1.5 and new enhancements have been slow in coming. That is because it has, for the most part, done exactly what I needed.

Still, from time to time, I get ideas or suggestions for small enhancements to the component.

New from 1.5:

- ReplyTo argument (for Reply-To header)
    - Available in send method
    - Also available in init method to set a default
- Sender argument (for Sender header) - thanks to Sami Hoda for this suggestion!

That's it!

As you can tell, Mailer is pretty stable. It does what it does and doesn't need to do much more.

Mailer.cfc is open source and free for any use.
