This week was the most difficult week for me so far. I decided early on to only pick five blog entries every week. I usually find at least 7 blog entries that I think every developer should read. This week, it was no less than a dozen (from more than 50 nominees).

- Problems with CF 8's Generated Keys Feature (http://www.mischefamily.com/nathan/, January 28)
- How to grow the ColdFusion community. What YOU can do to help. (Dan Wilson, January 29)
- Yet another lesson on database indexing... (and solving "null null" and that-query-doesn't-exist errors) (Tom Mollerus, January 30)
- Nested Custom Tags (Nic Tunney, January 31)
- Hal Helms Teaches Me Some Object Oriented Programming (Ben Nadel, January 31)
